ANY BONDS TODAY

By Irving Berlin

The tall man with the high hat,
And the whiskers on his chin,
Will soon be knocking at your door,
And you ought to be in.
The tall man with the high hat
Will be coming down your way.
Get your savings out
When you hear him shout
"Any bonds today?"

"Any bonds today?"

Bonds of freedom is what I'm selling
"Any bonds today?"

Scrape up the most you can,
Here comes the freedom man,
Asking you to buy a share of freedom
today.

"Any stamps today?"

We'll be blest if we all invest
In the U. S. A.

Here comes the freedom man
Can't make tomorrow's plan
Not unless you buy a share of freedom
today.

First came the Czechs,
And then came the Poles,
And then the Norwegians,
With three million souls.
Then came the Dutch, the Belgians and France,
Then all the Balkans
With hardly a chance.
It's all in the Book
If only you look.

THE BATTLE-CRY OF FREEDOM

Yes, we'll rally 'round the flag, boys,
We'll rally once again,
Shouting the battle cry of freedom;
We will rally from the hillside, we'll gather from the plain,
Shouting the battle cry of freedom:
The Union forever, Hurrah boys,
Hurrah!
Down with the traitor, Up with the

While we rally 'round the flag, boys,
Rally once again,
Shouting the battle-cry of freedom.

THE MARINES' HYMN
(As approved and authorized by United States Marine Corps)

By L. Z. Phillips

From the halls of Montezuma,
To the shores of Tripoli,
We fight our country's battles,
On the land as on the sea.
Admiration of the nation,
We're the finest ever seen.
And we glory in the title,
Of "United States Marines."

Our flag's unfurled to ev'ry breeze,
From dawn to setting sun,
We have fought in ev'ry clime and place,
Where we could take a gun;
In the snow of far off northern lands,
And in sunny tropic scenes,
You will always find us on the job,
The United States Marines.

Editor's Note

The Bears' Tale Staff of 1942 has attempted to record in words and pictures a complete portrayal of the school life of the students in the Gladewater Junior-Senior High School.

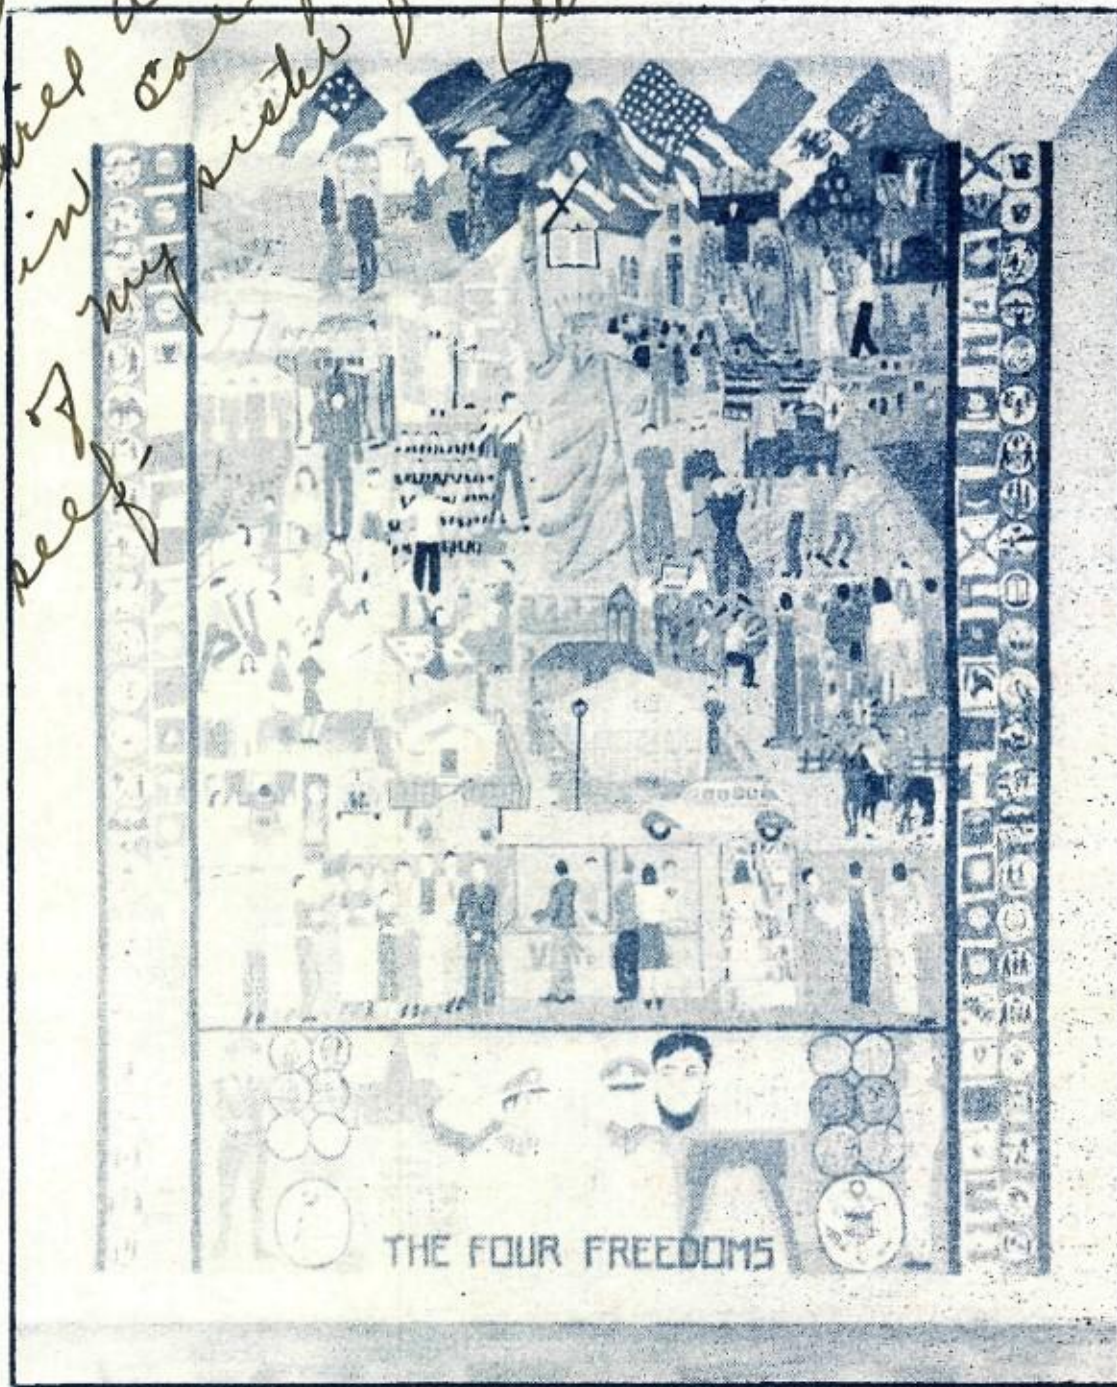

The original plan was to build the book around the theme of our contribution to the defense of Democracy. With the events of December 7, 1941, and the declaration of war on the following day it was deemed wise to take a more aggressive point of view. In spite of the many rapid changes we have attempted to keep abreast of those affecting our school system.

May you find pleasure in examining its pages, and in the future may it arouse fond memories of pleasant friendships and worthy activities.

Dedication

Throughout their history Americans have exemplified a profound love for freedom. Early in the seventeenth century the first colonists left their native lands to search for a place where they might live without oppression. The next century saw their descendants engaged in the American Revolution in order that life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness might be preserved. Now a great world war is being waged to insure the four freedoms listed by President Roosevelt: freedom of speech and religion, freedom from want and fear.

We as Americans realize that our way of living has evolved from this love and desire for freedom. Therefore, to the American Way Of Life we dedicate the 1942 edition of Bears' Tale.

J. J. TRAUGHBER
Principal

To the Students of Gladewater High School:

Civilization is like a vine, which creeps forward, altering its course with no apparent cause, sometimes growing downward, yet without any doubt that the general trend is always upward. A storm may come and flatten the vine but with warm sunshine, food, and water, it will rise again. We, the free people of America, are determined that we shall rise at Pearl Harbor, in Australia, in industry, in our schools and everywhere. A storm has hit us but we are not down and most certainly we shall rise higher and higher until our land is free of every danger.

You, the students of Gladewater High School, are living in a period in which the most radical change the world has ever experienced may be revealed before your very eyes. Long-established institutions, political, social, and cultural, are now being contested on every hand. You, the masters of tomorrow's civilization, shall play the star role in the greatest drama the United States has ever seen—"Will We Win The Peace After We Have Won The War?"

We must make every sacrifice necessary to win the war and the peace. To do this, we must produce, save, and work more than any generation that has ever lived through a war period.

A Christian character and a spirit of service for your fellow man will be your greatest asset in the days that lie ahead. Again I leave the thought with you - give more to the world than you take from it and you will be a happy and successful individual.

Very cordially yours

F. C. McConnell

P. S. April 17th- Since the above letter was written Uncle Sam has ordered me to report for active duty in the United States Army Air Corps. I am going into a world that is strange to me and I shall do my best to render all the service I can for you.

To the Students of Gladewater High School:

The splendid way you have rallied to the adjustments made in the changing personnel of the High School, that affects you so vitally, is evidence that the high morale you maintain will carry you through this period of chaotic change.

It is a privilege, for which I am humbly grateful, to be able to work for your interests these last few weeks of school.

For those of you that return to these revered halls of learning next year, may you realize that within your hearts and minds the torch of light burns for America of tomorrow. Be true to it by your industry and loyalty.

To those of you who leave, my prayers go with you for Divine guidance and protection in a world aflame.

To all of you for your expressed confidence, I am,

April 8, 1942

To the Students of Gladewater Junior-Senior High School:

You are obviously experiencing the most drastic changes that the world has ever known. During these days when the terrors of war have reached almost every nation in the world, you should strive to develop mental and spiritual preparedness. Honesty, straightforwardness, integrity, genuineness, truthfulness, and courage are the criteria by which you may adapt yourselves to these changes. It is my belief that these characteristics have been so instilled into your lives that you can face the days to come and share with others the ideals for which you stand.

Congratulations to the sponsors and staff members who have shared in the publication of this outstanding yearbook. It will preserve and perpetuate the memories of your high school life and be a constant reminder of your achievements attained in both class and extra-curricular activities.

Very sincerely yours,

History of the Senior Class

Compiled By Ethelyn Wood

In September, 1931, Gladewater was buzzing with many pupils trying to get located for their first year in school. Some of us looked on them, as well as on the huge machines their parents brought with them, in wonder. The Lathrop Discovery Well was brought in during the previous year, and we looked forward to many pleasures that this black fluid was said to bring.

Among the natives of the Gladewater Area were: Carmen Carlisle, Cullie Marie Bouknight, Jack Phillips, Frank Glenn, Ethelyn Wood, Jeannette Hawkins, James Boles, Travis Thompson, Melba Jane Moore, Ben Mason and Ruben Phillips, and Hubert Berry.

Some of the students were found waiting for us after having spent the previous year in the first grade. James Boles and Travis Thompson were here when most of us started to school.

Far in excess in numbers were the new residents: James Goodson, Wilma Hughes,

The rules of the first grade were more strict than they are now. Durwood Stanley got a whipping from his teacher the very first day of school just because he wrote on the blackboard. Gladewater first graders were not the only first graders who had their ups and downs. Delving into the past of our classmates we find that Marvin Precise, better known to most of us for his good driving and his version of "You Are My Sunshine", beat up the principal's son the first day of school. Betty Paul was bitten by a mad dog.

Following the class in its progress from year to year, we find some colorful incidents. John Bob Little was ill for several weeks during his second year, and on his returning to school found another boy had taken his favorite chair. According to his story, he just lit up a "King Edward" and struck out for home until the next year. Norma Jean Foster while in the second grade was put in front of the class with gum on her nose because she tried to chew it when the teacher wasn't looking. Audrey Jean Cloud, who is noted for her love for David Knotts, had a thrashing in the second grade because she blew up a balloon with a whistle on it. Earnest Allen and Floyd Kennedy report no whippings, throughout their entire school life. We wonder why. Marjorie Arney says that when she was in the second she was "switched" on her legs, because she rushed into the room ahead of the rest of the line. This same year Jackie Cason got a spanking but never knew why. She wasn't the only bad little girl that day, because all the children at the same table with her received the same punishment. Norma Browning was given "corporal punishment" when she was in the second grade, because she wouldn't let her girl friend look on the same book.

In the third grade Earlene Smiddy was spanked in the cloak room, because she threw a bottle of ink on a boy who hit her with a paper wad. This happened to Earlene two years before she moved to Gladewater from Addington, Okla. Also in this year Ruth Turnbow was "chastened with a strap", because she didn't know her math lesson. She says she still doesn't. Billye Jean Vaughn, that blond soprano star, and Emily Jane Womack, a flag bearer of the pep squad, had to stand in the corner in the third grade, because they were "blabbling" about something they knew nothing of. Howard Sherrill doesn't want to brag but he says that he whipped "Bulldog" Owens from the third grade up to the sixth. He says he still could if Jackie were in Gladewater. Julius Morse couldn't seem to get enough to eat when he was in the third, so he ate a jar of paste. When we Seniors were in grade school, we were not allowed to go down town during our lunch hour but Cullie Marie Bouknight did, so she received a spanking for disobeying orders. Etta Mae Emerson remembers the days when she had to stand in the corner, because she talked in class. Maxine Steen, that red headed majorette of the pep squad, threw a bottle of ink on a boy, because he called her "holstein".

Lumber, pulp, and paper come from our timber.

In 1936, we were moved from the shacks into the new Gladewater Elementary School. We were very happy about the change because of a better heating system, nice desks, and smooth floors to slide on while the teachers weren't looking. Among the conveniences offered by our school from an early date, was bus service to and from school for all students.

In the fourth grade, before he moved to Gladewater, Bob Higginbotham pulled a chair from under his teacher. Tsk, Tsk, Tsk, Bob shouldn't have done that! Raymond Odell in this same year received a "beating" from his teacher, because he walked on the railroad tracks just after being told that nice little boys were not to do that. Maxine Steen and Peggy Strawn had a fight in the fourth grade but neither will say who was the victor. Martha Faye Howell won a big basket of eggs on an Easter egg hunt. After a party in the fourth grade, Arlyn Matthews spent the night at his girl friend's house and had to sleep with her pop. Arlyn was living at Troup, Texas, at the time, moving to Gladewater in 1938.

In the fifth grade Gloria Bays became the star of grade school. She was Mother Goose in a big musical production directed by Miss Key, the music teacher of the school at that time. Donald Baskin got a spanking from Mr. Traughber in the fifth grade, because he had a big chalk fight with a group of boys. Margaret Swearingen has moved from Gladewater but we will always remember her for her part in the Junior Play. Ruth Turnbow, who has a little brother, Buddy, moved to Gladewater in 1930 and then away in 1935. Buddy and Ruth came back again in 1940 to graduate with us.

Gene Trumbull just can't keep his own trousers. While in the sixth grade Gene got them torn off, but the worst part of this little story is that he had to finish the day with them torn to pieces. Truman Fitzgerald was kicked out of class by Miss Burnett in the sixth grade, because he hit the teacher over the head with a ruler. Billy Sharp and J. R. Abel have been members of the Senior Class for two years.

The same is true of Frank Lawrence, David Knotts, and Joseph Haywood, but not for the same reason. David and Frank wanted to play basketball and football for another year and Joseph desired a post graduate course.

Is Dennie Jean Sowell boy-crazy? For that answer, ask her. But we want you to know that she had a fight over a boy while in the seventh grade. In Miss Tallant's room in the seventh grade, Russell Roush got a whipping because he didn't write "I must not chew gum in music class" 3,000 times. Odell Bostick was a negro in a minstrel in the seventh. One night at practice a boy tried to kiss her so she smeared black paint over his face. Howard Garrett, who formerly took band but quit so he could play football, got lost on the band trip to New York. But now Howard has learned to find his way around in a big way. Buddy Wooden reports that he has never fought over a girl, but that doesn't mean he won't. That is, if he can find the right one. Leta McKane has been fighting boys ever since she can remember. She will get her man maybe, if she doesn't kill him first. Erschel and Herschel Bray, the only twins in the Senior Class, came to Gladewater in 1937. They are members of the band.

In the eighth grade Ivan Elmer, Jeanette Hawkins, Lucille Spencer, and James Goodson had to stand in the hall, because they were talking while class was in full swing. Dan Pursel was slapped by Mrs. E. P. Williams when he was in the eighth grade. Reason unknown. Virgil Shaw says the only thing of importance that happened to him was that he went steady for three months; then his girl moved away. Major Conley in his first game of football was almost in the clear but got scared and then some big lug came along and almost knocked his pants off. A. R. Price quit school in the eighth grade, but we see that he is back again. Harold Pickens moved to Gladewater at mid-term in 1941 and became a member of the band that year.

In the ninth grade Mary Helen Kirby made a cake with a beautiful icing on it. When she had completed it and was taking it to the front of the room to show to the other Homemaking girls, she dropped it. It then became known as the up-side down

The Cub Facts first started in 1938 under the sponsorship of Mrs. Louise Hicks. Volume I was put out by a group of seventh graders, who worked outside of class and after school. Then the students sold ads to help pay for the paper. All printing was done by hand or mimeographed.

Volume II was published in 1938-39-40 by the sixth and seventh grade reporters of which there were about forty. Miss Amalie Severin was sponsor. The paper was planned according to the important events. A conference was held once a week and the reporters were assigned different items to write. The paper came out twice every week.

Volumes III and IV have been published under the direction of Mrs. Ollie Woodell. Photography was done under the supervision of Mr. C. L. York and printing under Mr. Charles E. Woodson.

cake. Merry Charlene Christmas while in the ninth had to stand in the corner in Mr. Sheppard's English Class. Harold Clemens, who came to Gladewater in the summer of 1941, was expelled from his former school because he dragged a skunk down the hall. Billy Spencer had a fight with Frank Tinsley in the ninth. Lucile Childs says that she loves to go to Gladewater High School, but her worst experience was the very first day. Irene Bell reports that she not only got her own lessons in the tenth grade but she also got Ethelyn Wood's. In this same year Jewel Spivey was caught by Mr. Traugher when she was playing hookey. Myrtle Faye Coleman was salutatorian of Mings Chapel in the tenth grade.

When school started this year, Mr. Parker and Mr. Eury were found to be doing military training.

At mid-term Calvin Morris, Jack Young Earnest Allen, Bob Higginbotham, David Knotts, and Jimmy Hilton completed their school work. Jack Johnson left Gladewater High School around mid-term to get an education and continue his football training at E.T.S.T.C.

Pep leaders this year were Arlyn Matthews, Betty Paul, Travis Thompson, and Jimmy Smith. The Flag Swingers from the Senior Class were Dollie Marie Biles, Emily Jane Womack, Hazel Corley, and Martha Faye Howell. The Flag Bearers of the Band were Norma Jean Foster, Ethelyn Wood, and Billye Jean Vaughn.

Billy Kearley, one of the most unlucky boys in school, was operated on and had to stay in bed on Kid Day. Billy watched the boys and girls go to the show through the window of McKean Hospital. Among the Seniors who had the mumps just a week or two before Senior Day were Ralph Weiser, Arlyn Matthews, Billye Jean Vaughn, J. R. Abel, James Vickery, and Gene Boyd.

Jo Ann Carlton has been the holder of many offices. While she was a Sophomore and Junior she was secretary of her class. She is also the previous president of the Sub-Deb Club. During rehearsal of the Senior Play of this year, Ernest Allen accidentally broke a table and we would not have a "Kid Day" because the table had to be paid for. We had our "Kid Day" but how, we don't know. Howard Garrett takes the glory for raising the Senior Flag, but there were so many who took the glory we can't be sure of it.

Melda Lee Miller became Mrs. Bigham in her Senior year. We hated to see her go, because everyone liked her very much. Lucille Spencer was married to Leon High in her Junior year. Lucille was noted for her many car wrecks. She made better grades after she married than before, abandoning the theory of Home Economics for actual practice for 365 days a year. Billy Pierson, while a Senior, was carried to the office by Miss Aycock, because he danced on top of her desk as she came in. Billy no longer lives in Gladewater. He moved after mid-term. The height of John Bob Little's ambition is to go to Canada and trap beavers with some of his friends.

Perhaps the reason that Leola Thompson seems lonesome this year is because of a certain '41 Senior. Leola was elected a majorette, but she moved to Carmi, Illinois. Leola and her brother Jack have moved back to Gladewater where she will graduate. Dollie Marie Biles is the answer to every girl's prayer about the time of the Junior-Senior Prom. She works at Kellam's Flower Shop where all the boys get the beautiful flowers for the girls on different occasions. Jack Brady, voted most handsome boy in school, has been president of his class for the last three years. Frank Lawrence continued school here this year although his heart entered Kilgore College.

Sugar rationing has been started, but a lot of ambitious Seniors have declared that theirs will not be rationed. We don't know what they mean, do you? All we know is that there will probably be a lot of parlor dates now that father's tires are growing thin and gasoline is being rationed.

The people of Gladewater, including the student body, are contributing cheerfully to the National Cause by buying defense bonds and stamps, offering their services, and saving such things as scrap iron, toothpaste tubes, and paper.

School will be closing before long and there will be several of the students and teachers who will be glad to offer their services for the good old U.S.A.

Library

The Gladewater Senior High School Library has done much this year toward developing the proper reading habits of the students. The shelves have been rearranged so that students have free access to all books, and a browsing corner with easy chairs has been arranged. A new charging desk has also been purchased.

The library contains over 5600 volumes and subscribes to 57 periodicals.

The librarian is assisted each period by two students, who receive credit toward graduation for their work. These students assist at the charging desk, answer reference questions, mend books, and assist in preparing new books for circulation.

Dear Edgar:

We are pleased to advise you that the KFRD-Sports Committee has nominated and selected you for the position of Quarter Back on its official All-District 11AA Second Team.

This award has been given you as a result of your excellent play during the season just completed and the good clean sportsmanship displayed, which in a large measure, was responsible for your team's victories.

We wish for you continued success in your future activities and feel certain that with continued application along the lines of clean living and study that you may be able to achieve whatever goal you set.

Yours for East Texas Service

IN YEARS TO COME

The future holds great opportunity for the young people of America. In the years ahead, when we have won the war, and the peace to follow, and our country's great production capacity is again turned peacetime activity, we in America can look forward to an era of unequalled progress and accomplishment.

In that time, United Gas Service will stand ready, as it stands now, to serve home and industry faithfully and efficiently.

Ouida Markham: Silence is golden.

Betty Paul: If silence is golden, you'll never be arrested for hoarding.

Billy Murphy: Garland Christmas loves to dance--dancing is in his blood.

Feggy Johnson: He must have poor circulation. It hasn't gotten down to his feet yet.

Kenneth Dodson: Don't drink that stuff, Sidney. That wood alcohol will make you blind.

Sidney Ferrell: That's all right, I've seen everything.

James Lee Rike: May I kiss your hand?

Beth Decker: What's wrong with my lips, sticky?

Frances McBride: Miss Carter is the most absent-minded person I ever saw.

Frank 'Glen: What's she been doing now?

Frances McBride: Why, this morning she thought she'd left her watch at home, and then looked at it to see if she had time to go back and get it.

Mr. Button: (Greatly irritated at the action of a student) Listen here, young man, are you the professor of this class?

Robert Paul: No, sir, I'm not.

Mr. Button: Then stop acting like a fool.

Mrs. Dunagan: Now, Frankie, what will you say at the party when you've had enough to eat?

Frank Dunagan: Goodbye.

Mrs. Barton: Tomorrow is your Father's birthday. What shall we do for him?

Bobbie Barton: We might let him have his car for a day.

Mary Alice Thomas: "No, we mustn't! Didn't you know that the teachers have decided to stop necking?"

Edgar Howard: "Aw, heck! The first thing you know they'll be wanting the students to stop, too."

The car was moving along a lonely road. Suddenly from under the hood came a terrific knocking. The car came to a stop.

Julius Morse: "Heck, I wonder what that knock is." Dennie

Jean Sowell: "I think it's opportunity, baby."

ALMA MATER
Words and Music by Cethbura Madison O'Neal

ANDANTE

The musical score is written for voice and piano. It consists of four systems of music. Each system has a vocal line (treble clef) and a piano accompaniment (treble and bass clefs). The key signature has two flats (B-flat and E-flat), and the time signature is 4/4. The tempo is marked 'ANDANTE'. The lyrics are written below the vocal line.

Dear Glade-wa-ter Al - ma - Ma - ter On the field we cheer you In our hearts re-vere you

Dear School Moth-er We love no oth - er As we love and hen - er you

We shall treasure friendships Made with-in your halls Ring-led with the mem-ory Of your hal-low'd walls

Dear Glade-wa-ter Al - ma Ma - ter We'll be ev-er true to you
